second ballot for food and dairy commissioner. The others withdraw.

Delegates and Electors at Large. For electors at large, General William P. Orr. of Piqua, and Colonel Myron T. Herrick, of Cleveland, were nominated by neclamation.

Smater Foraker, Governor Nash, Gen. Grosvenor and Gen. Dick were presented in one resolution by ex-Senator Masor for delegates at large to Philadel

Ex-Representative McGrew moved to ubstitute the name of Hanna for that of Grosvenor.

Senator Hanna positively declined and the motion was lost. Judge Stewart then moved to substitute the name of Charles Foster, exgovernor and ex-secretary of the treas-ry. Foster also declined. A motion by Cox, of Cincinnati, ther prevailed that the secretary be directed to cast the vote of the convention for Foraker, Nash, Grosvenor and Dick. Charles Foster, Myron A. Norris, W. C. Brown and George A. Myers were selected as alternates at large.

The convention then adjourned sine

THE DAY SESSION

Of the Ecumenical Conference Opened by Bishop Dudley, of Kentucky. Number of Meetings Held.

NEW YORK, April 25.—Bishop Dud-ley, of Kentucky, led the opening exercises at to-day's session of the Ecumen-ical conference. The regular day's work in Carnegie hall was the consideration of educational work. The Rev. Dr. W. T. A. Barber, head master of Leys school, Cambridge, Eng-land, and William T. Harris, commissioner of education, both spoke at length on the subject "The place of education in Christian missions."

"The necessity for training teaching," was discussed by the Rev. John W. Conklin, of the Bible mission school, of Springfield, Mass.

were followed by short discussions by those of the delegates who have been engaged in educational work at home and abroad.

During the afternoon five sectional neetings were held. At the Union Methodist church, the general topic was that of "Wider relations of missions," the Madison avenue Reformed church, the topic was "Vernacular literature;" at the Fifth avenue Presbyter ian church, "The native church and moral questions," was discussed; "Normal training," was the subject at the Central Presbyterian church, and the "Medical training of nations," was discussed at Chamber Music Hall, Carno-

To-night two central meetings were held, one at Carnegie hall, as usual, and one at the Central Presbyterian church

BETHANY BREEZES,

Special Dispatch to the Intelligencer. BETHANY, W. Va., April 25.— Prof. Jeff Hindman, of Wellsburg, has been out this week, overlooking the electric plant that is to light the college, ladies' hall, heights and college campus. It was donated by John Knight, of Bowling Green, Ohio.,

Rnight, of Bowling Green, Ohlo.

Mont Ledged met with quite a series of accidents yesterday. He was cutting timber for a saw mill on Cross creek, some miles from home, when he accidentally cut his foot about half off and after getting it dressed and properly bandaged, he got in a bugsy and started for home, accompanied by a friend. In crossing Buffalo creek at Cox's ford, his vehicle broke in the middle, precipitating both occupants into the water. They got out safely, and a friend came along and took the wounded man to his home.

There is a great deal of timber changing hands in this vicinity at present. Hamilton Bowman, the skillful veteran sawyer, has moved his saw mill to the old camp ground on Castleman's run, where he will saw up a large tract of timber.

The time for opening bids to grade

The time for opening bids to grade the ons-half mile track on the fair grounds was extended until May 1, and until which time bids will be received.

It is said the new directors of the West Penn Telephone Company will soon make connections with Bethany and give us a cheap rate with the out-side world. A LITTLE life may be sacrificed to a sudden attack of croup, if you don't have Dr. Thomas' Eelectric Oil on hand for the emergency.—2.

The stock market was in large part confined to Sugar to-day, the feverish and violent fluctuations in which kept affairs so unsettled that the operators hesitated to make ventures and the volume of dealings fell to small proportions. There was no actual news development to account for Sugar's erratic course, though the board room was flooded with rumors all day of a settlement of the trade war, absorption of rival refineries, etc. It was pristly evident that these were set afloat by the manipulators for a rise, which was directed against the short interest reputed to be largely concentrated in Boston. The stock sold as low as 108 in the morning on supposed indications of fresh vigor in the trade war and in the afternoon it got up to 115½. It closed at a net gain of 2½. The general market sold off after the opening in sympathy with the break in Sugar, which effectually dominated the tope of the market all day. When Sugar rebounded the room traders all turned to the bull side and kept prices up on a small volume of dealings. There were movements in special stocks designed to help on an advance, notably in Missouri Pacific, Pennsylvania, Wabash preferred and the grangers, but it was noticeable that the buying demand showed a marked falling off on any advance. Buying orders came in on the early decline, but later in the day the market continued dull. The apathy of the demand caused realizing by the room traders and a late reaction which wiped out many of the gains. The closing was easy and the net results for the day were much mixed. The introduction in Congress of a resolution for a committee to investigate the Steel & Wire episode and the New York stock exchange may have had some influence in the late reaction. The announcement of a small engagement of gold for exchange the stock of the souncement of gold for exchange may have had some influence in the late reaction. The announcement of a small engage episode and the New York stock exchange may have had some influence in the late reaction. The announcement of a small engagement of gold for export to Europe had very little influence. The gold which amounted to $500,000, is believed to be destined for Paris. Sterling exchange was distinctly easier, the rate for demand bills falling $\frac{8}{2}\text{. This leaves the question of further gold exports more doubtful again. The lack of a fast steamer this week is offered by some bankers as a reason for refraining from shipping gold during that period.

Discounts in London were slightly easier to-day, but money in New York also showed further relaxation, loans for sixty to ninety days belog quoted at 1 per cent and four to six months at 21 per cent on mixed collateral. The gain by the banks from the sub-treasury since last Friday already amounts, to over $2,000,000. But the sub-treasury since last Friday already amounts, to over $2,000,000. But the sub-treasury since last recommend to make the first time in several weeks, except when some special operation intervened. The disbursements in consequence of the government bond premiums from the sub-treasury are in fact declining and this source of replenishment to the money market is likely to be closed soon. A sharp fall in New York exchange at Chicago was also an incident of the day.

Breadstuffs and Provisions. CHICAGO-The grain and provisions

CHCAGO—The grain and provisions markets were strong to-day, the former helped principally by higher cables and a good export demand. Wheat closed %@lc higher, corn 1%@l½c better and oats ½c improved. The market for hog products at the close was from 7½c to ISc higher.

Wheat began the day fairly active and firm. Liverpool was strong; receipts were moderate and there was a good demand from foreigners. Moreover, the pressure from longs seemed to be past. Offerings were light and there was a fair amount of buying by commission house. This caused a gradual advance, which was helped along forcefully by the great corn strength and the close was very close to the top. Shorts covered freely throughout most of the session. A feature of the trade was the ease with which the market responded to built influences, and the absence of bearish pressure despite the perfect climatic conditions, and and the absence of bearlsh pressure despite the perfect climatic conditions, even Michigan, Indiana, Illinois and Ohio, reporting prospects somewhat improved. The cash business here was slack, although some other markets reported a fair spot trade. Local shipments were 190,000 bushels. New York reported thirty loads taken for export. Atlantic port clearances in wheat and flour were equal to 678,000 bushels. Primary receipts were 295,000 bushels. Primary receipts were 295,000 bushels, compared with 443,000 bushels a year ago. Mineapolis and Duluth reported. ago. Minneapolis and Duluth reported 260 cars, against 187 last week and 292 the corresponding day last year. Re-ceipts here were forty-two cars, none of Solid between above an object to the serious serious and closed to higher at 17%.

Solid the day, but the trade was not large—offerings were too small for that. Many held that it was the leading deal on the board, but the greater part of the time honors seemed to be easy between the big cereal and wheat. The market apparently was partly the result of the recent heavy buying by buils, as there was little left to abborb. For such as was offered there was a scramble between longs and shorts, with the latter the more urgent in their demands. There was a brisk demand for export and the day's cash business was approximated at 36,000 bushels. New York had sixty-live loads for export and the day's cash business was approximated at 36,000 bushels. New York had sixty-live loads for export and the down was excellent. Considerable May was traded for, July principally by elevator people. Influences were strong cables, Liverpool being strong for both spot and futures, light country offerings and small receipts and the rains which were reported to have delayed seeding and interrupted the movement in various sections. Local receipts were 255 cars. May ranged from 28%.635%c, closing light improved at 39%c; July 30id between 29%c and 40%c, closing light improved at 40%c.

Oats were firm, helped by corn and wheat. Shippers reported the demand improved, 176,000 bushels worked here. Local receipts were extended here. Local receipts were seventy-eight cars. May ranged from 23%.623%c, July 30id between 23%c; and closed 4c up at 23%c; 2de, and closed 4c up at 23%c; closing light were seventy-eight cars. May ranged from 23%c; July from 23%c; 2de, and closed 4c up at 23%c; down and notwithstanding prices were higher, the feeling was rather bearish.
